Jack was the oldest of five boys born to Virginia and John William (Bill) Rall Sr. on November 16, 1930, in Kearney. He graduated from Kearney High School and then Kearney State College with a teaching degree. He never went on to teach but proved to be an invaluable resource for all his children’s questions about geography. While in college, Jack worked at Swan’s Furniture in Kearney. He later bought the business from the Swan family and continued to run it until his retirement nearly five decades later.

Jack served in the US Army during the Korean War and was stationed in Puerto Rico where he learned to enjoy cerveza and to disdain plantains. Throughout his life he was active in the Kearney Jaycees, Fort Kearny Wildlife Association (President 1959-1961), Sertoma Club, Elks, Boy Scouts, Kearney Goodfellows, National Furniture Association, Kearney National Guard, Kearney City Park Board, and the Good Samaritan Hospital Volunteer League.

Jack married Ruth Alexander on May 29, 1961 in Grand Island. Together they raised three children: Theresa, Steve and Betsy. He was a devoted and loving husband and father, who learned to do some household chores alongside his children. Jack enjoyed reading and working outdoors, being especially fond of planting trees. He was athletic and loved baseball, choosing early to be a lifelong Boston Red Sox fan who finally got to Fenway Park for the first time in 1983 to see the Red Sox beat the Yankees in extra innings. He spent uncountable hours working on his lawns and gardens, first being fondly known as the Canna King of 4th Avenue and later planting so many trees at “Ralls Ranch” a plumber visiting for the first time commented “not everyone can live in a fricking park!” Jack had a close group of friends with whom he played poker and traveled to Canada annually to go fishing.

Jack is survived by his wife, Ruth; daughters, Theresa (Quito, Ecuador) and Betsy (Craig Potthast, Columbus); grandchildren, Lance (Adrienne) Rall and his children Aurelia, Aidan and Declan (Kearney), Logan (Theresa) Rall and his children Jack and Sage (Waverly), and Erin Burr (Kearney); daughter-in-law, Kim (Jeff Burr. Kearney); brothers, Jim (Donna) Rall (Lincoln) and Joe Rall (Kearney); sister-in-law, Sharon Rall (Kearney); and many nieces and nephews.

Jack was preceded in death by his son Steve and brothers Jerry and Marvin.

My sincere condolences to the family of Jack Rall. I became friends with Jack upon opening my medical clinic in 1979 and purchased all of the waiting room chairs and tables. This led to many years of going to Swans Furniture store for our new home and Jack was always the nicest, most patient and calming person. He was a delight to work with and I always left his presence feeling better about the kindness of people. He will be missed. May His Memory Be A Blessing.
