Adele was born August 25, 1940 in Austin, TX to Walter and Marie (Krueger) Luhn. Adele met her husband C.L. Mitchell (Mitch) while he was serving in the Air Force in Texas. They married in Austin, on April 26, 1964. With their three young children they relocated to Kearney County, Nebraska, where Mitch pursued a career in agriculture. Early on he was employed as a farmer, managing both livestock and crops. He later worked independently as well, managing his family's farm. Adele retired from Baldwin Filters.

Family time was always Adele's favorite time. She cherished being a housewife and a mom. Adele and Mitch loved to cook together, and prepare fabulous meals for their family, especially at the holidays. They often played games with their children, and took frequent camping and fishing trips. They taught their children to love and respect nature and the outdoors.

Adele and her family learned to enjoy the simple life that a life in agriculture fosters. She had a green thumb for nurturing beautiful flower and vegetable gardens. She would anxiously await the harvest, always attended Farmer's Markets, and canned as much as she could. Adele went to craft shows with her daughters, and car shows with her son. Mitch would welcome the chance to have her come with, as he worked on the farm- whatever he was doing seemed to suit her just fine. She was content to be with him; he was her true love, and she was his. She had a lighthearted and spirited sense of humor that everyone adored. She loved colorful things like fireworks and parades, and kite flights.
