Leonard dedicated his life to having a positive influence on his family, community and the world. He was born February 10, 1935 in Riverdale and graduated from Riverdale High School in 1952. He earned Bachelor's (1956) and Master's (1960) degrees at Kearney State College followed by a PhD at UNL in 1967.

Leonard's 40-year career in education left a lasting legacy. He served as principal in Red Cloud, NE (1956-59), superintendent at Wilcox, NE (1959-62) then worked for the State of Nebraska Department of Education (1962-67). He came to Kearney State College in 1968 as Dean of the School of Education and served in many roles within the education department before retiring in 1997. In retirement, he continued his legacy by serving as interim president at Peru State College in 1999. He was also instrumental in founding the Himanchal Education Foundation, promoting community-based educational development in rural Nepal.

Leonard loved his family and was a dedicated husband, father and role model. He married his high-school sweetheart Dolores McConnel on June 6, 1954; they were blessed with four sons. You would often find the family taking their trailer to Ft. Kearny, the Black Hills or Chadron State park for camping, swimming and fishing. After Dolores passed away in 2004, he married Wanda Franklin on January 27, 2007.

Leonard loved the Lord and his church, First Baptist Church of Kearney. Whenever help was needed, Leonard was there; as chairman of the building committee, Sunday School teacher, mowing the church lawn or clearing snow. And he loved the city of Kearney. He served on the board of Kearney Regional Airport and in several capacities at the Archway.

He is survived by his wife, Wanda Franklin of Kearney; sons Steve (Susan) of Springfield, MO, Randy (Jinda) of Fayetteville, GA, Jeff (Judy) of Spring Hill, KS and Mike (Valerie) of Arlington, VA; 10 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren; and many other family members and friends.

Leonard was preceded in death by his parents Jens Christian and Edith Lou (Johnson), wife Dolores, brother Charles, sister Marian Fisher and half-brother Elmer Skov.

“ My husband Galen and I were saddened to learn of Leonard's passing. I have so many good memories of Leonard, dating back to his days in Red Cloud when he was my high school principal. At the time, he looked so young it was hard to believe he was the principal.

Decades later, I joined the College of Education faculty at UNK where Leonard was Dean and he still looked young! He always had a smile and a jaunty walk, happy to engage in talking with faculty and students. His knowledge about Nebraska and Nebraska schools was deep and engaging. I especially appreciated the positive culture that Leonard had created among College of Education faculty and staff.

Leonard's energy knew no bounds, and he had many ideas for improving whatever he was engaged in. I admired his commitment to the Himanchal Foundation that supports educational efforts in rural Nepal. He also established a student teaching site in Houston, TX that provided an urban and culturally diverse site for UNK student teachers. Under Leonard's leadership, UNK was the first to provide an ESL program to respond to the changing demographics in Nebraska in the 90's. Leonard's legacy was the College of Education's respected undergraduate and graduate education programs that served schools statewide.

Galen and I send our sympathies to Leonard's family.

“ Please except condolences from the Livingston family. My father-in-law Les Livingston taught physical education and coached during some of Leonard's tenure at KSC. He spoke very highly of Leonard and considered him a good friend. I worked in administration at KSC/UNK, and had the opportunity to work with him on many occasions. Leonard brought joy to the workplace, and innovation when we needed it. I respected him and his dedication to students.

With sympathy,
Kathy Livingston

“ Mike, Jeff, Steve and Randy,

I was extremely sorry to hear and read about your dad's passing. I remember him always being very engaging and easy to be around, even as a young kid in the neighborhood. He often had a riddle to share that often helped me look at problems a different way. He did a lot of great things for the city of Kearney, my favorite being the airshow he helped bring to town.

Please enjoy your time together as you celebrate his life.

Warm Thoughts,
