Born December 7, 1973 in Salt Lake City, Utah, to Gary and Toni (Hunt) Shull, Mandy was the loving mother to three daughters, and a great friend to many. She was a selfless, wonderful role-model to her girls and was very protective of her children and brother. Taking care of others came natural to Mandy, as she gave everything she could and more to her loved ones. Amanda was very independent and did an amazing job as a single mother. She was not only a great mother, but a great daughter as well. She was her mom's best friend. Mandy liked to do many things but she absolutely loved sticking her nose in a book or going on an adventure with her family the most.

Amanda graduated from Cottonwood High School in Salt Lake City, UT and took over her father's vinyl lettering business, Shull Arts, later. She enjoyed her job and took great pride in her work. Her family liked helping with the business.

Mandy is survived by her mother Toni Anderson, of Kearney, NE, daughters; Breanna Fullerton, her boyfriend Nick Hammond, and their baby Damian Hammond of Salt Lake City, UT, Jessica Fullerton of Salt Lake City, UT, and Mikale Hunt of Kearney, NE., brother Sean Anderson and his wife Vanessa of Kearney, NE., nieces Kaylee Wilkins and Sofia Anderson of Kearney, NE., and nephew Ethan Anderson of Kearney, NE.

Mandy is preceded in death by her father Gary Shull, grandparents Paul and Ruth Hunt, uncles Paul and Craig Hunt, and Cousin Alex Cobb.
