Candus "Candi" Bukowski was born on November 19, 1953, in Topeka Kansas. She grew up in Alma, Nebraska, where she graduated from high school, and went on to earn her nursing degree from Central Community College in Kearney, Nebraska.

Candi married the love of her life, Floyd Bukowski, and together they built a life on their farm in Kearney. She devoted her career to nursing, working at Good Samaritan Hospital, Family Practice, and Richard Young Behavioral Health Center. Candi had a true gift for caring for others, and her dedication and kindness left a lasting impression on everyone she worked with and cared for.

In retirement, Candi and Floyd enjoyed wintering in Arizona, where they made wonderful memories together. She also loved gardening, photography, spending time with family, and baking, particularly as a master bread baker, filling her home with the comforting aroma of fresh, homemade bread. Candi is survived by her beloved husband, Floyd Bukowski; her son, Jason (Nora) Bukowski; her sisters Connie Lamm and Chris Johns, and her brother Mike Meyers, her grandchildren, Nickolas Bukowski, Patrick (Madison) Bukowski, and Kaylynn Bukowski. Candi was preceded in death by her mother and father, Donna and Lee Singletary, and her grandparents, VD and Olive Hageman. She will be remembered for her kind spirit, her loving nature, and the joy she brought to those around her.
