“ He was truly a good soul ,kind, funny. His personality could lift a room, and his hugs carried a warmth you didn't forget. I was lucky to know him for a long time, and every time we crossed paths again, it felt like no time had passed at all.

His smile lit up my world, and I know it did the same for so many others. I'll always be grateful that he got the chance to meet and love my daughter, Maeson.

My heart is with everyone who loved him especially his family. I hope they find comfort in knowing just how much he meant to those of us lucky enough to know him. He'll be deeply missed and forever remembered with love and laughter.
