“ Before I ever met Leo's son Dana, I started school at Kearney State and my dad took me to the bank to borrow money for my first semester costs. Leo was the loan officer, and having nothing to my name, he lent me the money I needed. I would always pay it back by the end of the semester and come back to the bank. And this dear banker would lend me enough for the next semester.. So appreciate that, no way it could happen today in our banks. Thank you Leo....I always loved you..Christy Henricksen Anderson

“ Yes, I remember when Leo was courting Jeanene and their love life. I was so happy for both of them. Leo was a great guy and will always remember him as always looking nice with his jacket on.

“ Dana and David

Your dad was a very special man and I'm blessed to have known him. Living across the street from you I remember your dad always being busy outside. The thing I liked about your dad is he would stop what he was doing and answer my endless questions for him !!!

I treasure getting to know him as a adult, visiting with him at the Peterson Senior Center.

You and your families are in my thoughts and prayers !!!

“ I have many memories of my grandfather, but one that stands out a lot is going to see him while he was working at the bank. Grandma would take us there often and we would get to see him doing what he did best aside from being a wonderful grandfather. I remember always walking in there feeling very proud that he was my grandfather!

“ Leo is the most amazing grandpa. He was always so excited to see his grandchildren and was always worried about us driving on the road. I have more memories than I can share... however.... growing up with him in my life always meant a trip to Dairy Queen! Then, when we were finished he would drive us down the “big hill”. He would go just fast enough to make our tummies tickle... but not so fast that he would put us in danger. In fact, it was the only time that he actually went as fast as the posted speed limit. He sure did love to take his time driving.

When his son Dana and I, Dana's first wife, lived in Kearney, I remember when Amber was less than two years old, Leo and Opal would bring Amber home on a Sunday afternoon, with Amber sitting on Leio's lap, steering the car as they drove. Oh the days when grandparents could get away with doing that. The good old days!

You might not figure out who I am, and I may have written this before. I'm never sure if the computer does what I think it should. I'm Rev. Dr. Ron Roemmich and I officiated with the Catholic priest at Leo and Jeanene's wedding. If memory serves me right, I think I officiated at Opal's funeral. I was paging through some obituaries and noticed Leo's smile. The fact that he was smiling was not a surprise to me. I appreciated this man very much. Our sympathy in his transition of life.
