Lois was born July 5, 1937 in Minden, Nebraska to Lloyd and Marion (Madsen) Moon. The family moved to Kearney where she attended school and graduated from of Kearney High School in 1956. Lois was married to Eugene F. Reicheneker in Kearney on May 27, 1956.

Lois worked as a school secretary at Long Fellow High School. After the birth of their son Lois chose to stay home and support her family. Many years later after her youngest son was in school she went back to work and was the manager of Husky Fuel station for eleven years. After retiring from Husky she continued to work as a bookkeeper for her husband's flooring business.

Lois was always on the go with her boys. Between baseball games and bowling meets she was their number one fan and supporter. In her spare time she was passionate on finding a bargain at her favorite shopping places such as garage sales and auctions. Antiques were her hobby, she could turn trash into treasure with a touch of a brush and a can of stain. Over the years she sold and bought many antique pieces and that continued until her health no longer allowed her to.

Survivors include her husband Eugene of Kearney; son Michael of Kearney; grandsons, Braxton and Tyson of Kearney; granddaughter Ann of Texas; great grandson Teagen of Kearney and sister, Sharon Meyers of Kearney.
