“ Words can never convey the amount of sorrow felt for your family. Losing a loved one so young and involved in the family is hard. The children have lost a most important person at such a young age, hope all will go well with them in years to come. Losing your other half is very hard at any age, the loss of half of yourself is so much to bear. God does have answers for those who seek his wisdom at this time. Praying for your answers and comfort as the years go by. May you have strength to carry on the household. Remember there are many people who really want to help with any need you have. Let them help as God places them in your life to help ease some of the day to day life. May God be with you and may the kids keep Tammy alive in their daily lives as they follow her lead as a mother. Prayers go out to you all. May God be near you. Peace and love Kathy
